The spirit

Craftsmanship in Nabeul is a heritage handed down from generation to generation.

In days gone by, people only ate fresh, handmade, natural food, made pottery from clay collected in the region, wore hand-embroidered clothes, and only ate local dishes in which red pepper was the basic ingredient.

In a spirit of promoting and safeguarding this heritage, Fatma M'barek, Aida Boulila, Amel Sinin and Samir Nayel wanted to create a unique experience for travelers, where they can learn how to handcraft their own harissa, discover local agriculture, learn how to plant, grow and cook in the wild, connect with the local population, share and discuss their traditions, take part in creative workshops (ceramics), and even distill floral waters according to the season.

Far from the modern, digital world, we offer an authentic, ecological experience. We are committed to respecting and promoting this culture and guaranteeing the smooth running of the experience.

We've got you covered...

- Departure from Nabeul to Beni Khyar.
- In Ghardaya, you'll visit the pepper fields, where depending on the season, you'll be able to watch the planting of local peasant seeds, the picking and the processing into harissa.
- Take part in local cooking classes and discover local dishes.
- Lunch in the fields and free time.
- End of the day and return to the hotel.
